

C.E.12

An awareness of individual talents, interests, and aspirations is needed to select a career.

Attitudes and behaviors that support a strong work ethic enhance career success.

There is a correlation between skills, education, and income.

Changes in technology influence the abilities, skill, and education needed in the marketplace.

Career planning starts with a self-assessment.

Employers seek employees who demonstrate the attitudes and behaviors of a strong work ethic.

Higher skill(s) and/or education level(s) generally lead to higher incomes.

Supply and demand also influence job income.

Employers seek individuals who have kept pace with technological change/skills.

Technological advancements create new jobs in the workplace.

The student will demonstrate knowledge of career opportunities by:

a) identifying talents, and aspirations that influence career choice, b) attitudes and behaviors that strengthen the individual work ethic and promote career success, c) skills and education that careers require, and d) examining the impact of technological change on career opportunities.
