ART 45 SELF-REFLECTION

Listed below are concepts and questions to discuss in your reflection blog. After uploading your images, and completing your reflection, please print the new content of your blog, cut it down to size, and paste it into your journal. Please do not rush through your reflection, as it is the foundation of your growth.

Intelligence

How well you have solved the creative challenge? Reflect upon the conceptual level of your body of work. Is your work idea-driven? Is it technique-driven? Discuss the direction you chose, and why.

Investment

Did you work outside of class to make sure you finished on time? Did you go out and find the materials you needed to make your work "hang ready"? Remember, this is the highest level we offer at DRHSART, so it is expected that you work hard to represent the program and yourself to the best of your ability. Discuss your work ethic and how it compares to what you have done in the past.

Difficulty

Discuss the challenges you faced with your artwork. What did you learn, and how has your recent experience with your art changed your perspective? Did your work provide any new ideas about your future work? Explain and elaborate.

Self Assessment

What letter grade would you give yourself if you were the instructor? Consider your potential as an artist and creative thinker. As you give this grade, think about how this work compares to the work you have made in the past in terms of craftsmanship, conceptual thought, and the time you have invested into its completion.
